Attitude/ History/ Background/Relationships:

She grew up in Czech orphanage & only ate oatmeal her whole life until she was 13. She escaped to Russia, where she was taken in by a Russian diplomat, who made her be a secret agent & sent her to the US. Her only weakness is that she is clumsy. She has no recollection of anything prior to the orphanage. Odd and scary things only appear to her in certain dreams, as fragments of a story she will never fully understand, but that gives her angst. She is an excellent spy, and she is very calculating and mysterious. She is wonderful with solving puzzles and foreign entanglements of the highest sensitivities. She can trust no one, ever.

Motivation:

To complete her current missions undetected by Soviet mafia. Her secret fantasy is to settle down on the Amalfi Coast in Italy, in a nondescript apartment, where nobody would find her and die her hair blonde and wear comfortable shoes and overalls and nobody would recognize her. She would change her accent and work as a waitress in a bar. One day...
